We Make "IT" Easy

Business Communications
Mobility, Telework, Remote Access

Can traveling and remote workers access their information at the office? If not, your business may be losing momentum…

- Not being able to access email at the office can slow customer response
- Not being able to share documents can cause missed deadlines
- Not being able to check inventory can impede sales
- Not having ready access to office communications could leave key people out of the loop

It's Your Business

Providing employees with the means to work anywhere brings huge gains:

- Mobile devices allow them to keep their inbox under control while on the road
- Laptop, iPads or tablets let them finish a presentation in the airport lounge
- Secure connections enable them to catch up during evenings and weekends

Technologies for working remotely also comprise an essential part of an effective business continuity plan. The inherent decentralization provided by a telework program, for example, enables your business to maintain key services when bad weather or other emergencies shut down your office.

What We Offer

- Remote access via a Virtual Desktop service or your own VPN allows employees to work from home as if they were in the office
- Mobility support enables almost any smart phone to access email, calendar, contacts, files, faxes and voicemail – and keep every device synchronized
- Telework allows remote staff to securely log in and access the same features that office colleagues enjoy, including their desktop, conferencing tools, and databases.

We Make Mobility Easy

If traveling and remote employees are having problems connecting to your network, DataLink has solutions that are right for your organization – at a cost that makes sense. Whether you're running a small or medium-sized business, each and every DataLink client is valued. You'll know it, because we'll prove it every day. And it's why for years and years, our client relationships continue.
